

A close-up photograph of a bright yellow flower with multiple petals and a central cluster of stamens, surrounded by green grass and a seed head.

Building our Botanical Knowledge

Plant Identification in the Dublin BSBI Group

Aims of the Dublin BSBI Field Outtings

- Collect botanical records in the Dublin area
- Visit interesting places
- Meet new people
- Learn from each other

Date	Location	Feature of Interest	Organiser
Sunday 2nd April 2017	Saltmarsh beside Portmarnock Golf Club	Saltmarsh and Sand Dune Habitats	Brian Seales
Sunday 23rd April 2017	Royal Canal	Range of garden escapes, species of built ground	Róisín NigFhloinn
in May 2017	Knocksedan Woods, Swords	TBC	Brian Seales
Sunday 11th June 2017	St Catherine's Park woodland walk	Old demesne woodland, dry meadows and verges, rare species including hairy St. John's wort Hypericum hirsutum	Sean Meehan
Saturday 8th July 2017	Clogher Head, Co. Louth	TBC	Kate-Marie O'Connor
Saturday 25th August 2017	North Wicklow (Glencree Valley)	Wet heath/blanket bog vegetation, and ivy-leaved bellflower Wahlenbergia hederacea	Katy Duff
Sunday 10th September 2017	River Boyne Park, Drogheda, Co. Louth	Remnant calcareous grassland, upper saltmarsh and amenity sites	Colm Clarke
Friday 27th October 2017	Hallowe'en Drinks! Grogan's Pub		Róisín NigFhloinn
			Kate-Marie O'Connor
			Brian Seales

St. Catherine's Park 11th June 2017

- Attended by botanists with a range of experience
- Encountered rare plants
- Variety of habitats

How to take Part

- Contact Colm Clarke, Kate-Marie O'Connor, or Maria Long
- Email the Dublin BSBI at dublinbsbi@gmail.com