

New Year Plant Hunt Top 10!

Daisy

A familiar white and yellow flower with rounded leaves found in lawns and grassy places.

Similar flowers: Feverfew, Mexican Fleabane

Dandelion

A yellow flower with jagged leaves found in lawns, grassy places and flowerbeds. There are over 200 species of dandelion in Britain and Ireland.

Groundsel

Yellow flowers, sometimes in a cluster, with no petals. Leaves jagged. Found on pavements & weedy places.

Annual Meadow Grass

A tiny grass found on pavements, gravel, bases of lampposts etc., We recommend you submit a photo of this one!

White Dead-nettle

Leaves heart-shaped and toothed, like a nettle, but with an obvious ring of white flowers. It doesn't sting.

Shepherd's-purse

A cluster of small white flowers, each with 4 petals; its most distinctive feature are its heart-shaped seed pods.

Red Dead-nettle

Leaves heart-shaped and toothed, like a nettle, but with obvious pink flowers. It doesn't sting.

Similar flowers: Henbit Dead-nettle

Petty Spurge

Tiny, green-yellow, sea-anemone-like flowers are cupped by green, leaf-like 'bracts'. Found in flowerbeds and disturbed ground.

Smooth Sow-thistle

A dandelion look-alike but usually much taller and the stem leaves have pointy bases which wrap around the stem.

Gorse

Yellow flowers that smell of coconut when in the sun. Has the classic flower shape of a member of the pea family.