

AIZOACEAE

A full account of the Aizoaceae naturalised in the British Isles, including illustrations, distribution information and a key, is given by Preston & Sell (1989). A monograph of Carpobrotus in South Africa has subsequently been published (Wisura & Glen 1993).

In addition to the taxa described by Preston & Sell (1989), Stace's New Flora includes Carpobrotus acinaciformis on the basis of records from Cornwall and Devon. The presence of this taxon in Britain requires confirmation and full details (including, if possible, measurements and colour photographs of plants) should be recorded for any naturalised populations.

References Preston, C. D. & Sell, P. D. (1989). Watsonia 17: 217-245.
Wisura, W. & Glen, H. F. (1993). Contributions from the Bolus Herbarium 15: 76-107.

Author C. D. Preston, February 1998.